

Families of Berkley Village & City

Fraser: Berkley Review, March 8, 1928, sec. 3, page 17

Berkley's Efficient Tax Collectors: H. Isabelle Fraser (with picture)

Mrs. Fraser who was first appointed to the office of village treasurer to succeed Lois M. Adix, resigned, after having served nine months as deputy treasurer. She was elected to the office to succeed herself one year ago. During the period in which Mrs. Fraser has served there has been about $1,000,000 in special assessments added to the tax and assessment rolls. These added collections have been handled with neatness and dispatch. Also many tax and accounting reforms have been instituted under the direction of Mrs. Fraser and the village auditor.

Her efficiency has contributed in a large way to the excellent service being given by the treasurer's office.

Herdman Berkley Review, March 8, 1928, sec. 3, page 17

E. Evan Herdman: Mr. Herdman's outstanding public service has been reflected in the phenomenal growth and expansion of the Berkley State Bank, which institution he has served as cashier since it was founded. He was the first president of the Berkley Exchange club and because of his affiliation with that constructive organization has been able to render to the village many services in a social and philanthropic way that merits special approval by the people of Berkley. He also follows the athletic doings of the local school and village teams and is a strong supporter of the Berkley boys. He also delights in bowling.

Schwertman Berkley Review, March 8, 1928, sec. 3, page 17

Berkley's Efficient Tax Collectors: Ruth Schwertman

Mrs. Schwertman, deputy treasurer, received her appointment one year ago. She has been very active in newspaper and civic work, having been a leader of the Woman's club of Berkley and a member of the board of education. She was secretary of the school board and installed a modern system of accounting while serving in that capacity. Her efficiency has contributed in a large way to the excellent service being given by the treasurer's office.